RECEIVED

The President,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I have just received this morning a very handsome and unique memento of a period of days in October which, I believe, will always be remembered as a textbook example of how a great leader of a great country should face up to a deadly crisis. I hasten to send you my warm thanks for your thoughtfulness in sending me this reminder of "the decision making process" which I was privileged to observe and my deep appreciation of your friendly thought of me.

With best wishes always, I am

Faithfully yours,

Bob A. Lovett
